

GREETINGS

Hey SWE-sters!

by Tyseanah Spell

Welcome to the UNT SWE newsletter. We have had such an eventful and impactful month this November. This will be used to recap all of the activities that this organization has done over the past month

If you haven't already, you can register to become a member at swe.org.

Reminders

Don't forget to like us on Facebook for the latest updates and to take the SWE survey for the Fall 2015 semester.

If you are interested in going to the SWE Region C Conference that will be at the University of Arkansas, February 5-7, 2016, the deadline for the Early Bird SWE Member rate is December 31, 2015. Prices will increase afterwards.

Lastly, applications for National SWE Scholarships are now open! Visit SWE.org to apply.

Not Just A Woman

UNT SWE member, Lindsey Smith, reminding us to stay strong and never give up.

College of Engineering Impact

UNT College of Engineering is currently featuring UNT SWE on their homepage with an article about the SWE National Conference, written by vice president, Haley Barnes.

Events

This year's officers have done a phenomenal job putting meetings and professional development events.

6th General Meeting

During this meeting, employees from Legrand/Wattstopper did a presentation about their company and what it is like being in Lighting Controls and Design.

7th General Meeting

In our last meeting of the semester, the UNT Learning Center came to teach us about time management.

One Busy Girl: Self Defense

Officer Kevin Crawford from the UNT Police Department gave a presentation about self-defense.

The Best Thing That Happened to Me Was Failure

In a joint meeting with the UNT National Society of Black Engineers, NSBE, Cherrie Fisher, Senior Engineer at AT&T gave an enlightening presentation on how she overcame her biggest failure in life.

Member Spotlight

Name: Isabella Venegoni

Major: Mechanical and Energy Engineering

Isabella is an active member in the Society of Women Engineers. She's a freshman getting her Bachelor's Degree in Mechanical and Energy Engineering. Isabella is an active volunteer with the UNT SWE After School Program.

Isabella originally got involved with UNT SWE through friends, and has been an active member since. She attends many of SWE's activities like general meetings, the planning of the After School Program and many more.

Isabella you're doing amazing! Keep up the good work and thank you for being an active member of SWE!

Design Your World at SMU

Design Your World is the signature outreach program of Dallas SWE. Students, professionals and a number of area teachers came together to enable 4-6th graders and parents/educators to come away inspired.

Several STEM activities, led by collegiate SWE members, were held, including:

- An exploration of materials/polymer/chemical engineering through the polymer jewelry exercise
- A flashing LED lighted headband
- An activity-robotic arm
- A Computer Science activity based on Alice Programming
- A car building and race activity

UNT SWE would like to thank all the volunteers that helped with this event.
